Wednesday, 16 Nov 2011, 6.30 pm – 8.00 pm
Venue: Meeting Room 4.1, Level 4, School of Accountancy, SMU

The Singapore Management University recently completed an exploratory study on how CEOs deal with uncertainty. The study delved into how CEOs developed game plans to manage uncertainty, and what are the critical factors in managing uncertainty effectively.

Foo See Liang, Co-director of School of Accountancy Research (SOAR) and Co-Director of Centre for Corporate and Investor Responsibility (CCIR), SMU, will present the results of the study at this roundtable discussion. He will also lead a discussion with participants on how Chief Audit Executives can play a critical role in assisting their CEOs deal with uncertainty.

We look forward to your participation and contribution at this roundtable discussion which is jointly organised by IIAS and SMU for the first time.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely

Loh Uantchern
President, IIA Singapore
